

WEEKLY CHAMPION.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, '03.

Miss Cleveland will return to the White House early in November, and will probably be accompanied by two or three lady friends.

Marion, of the Courier, says that twenty-one years ago there were not 800 good white civilized persons in Arizona, and Marion knows.

The Chicago Tribune notes the singular fact that of the members of the Buffalo firm of Irish & English, Mr. English is Irish and Mr. Irish is English.

When a woman goes horse back riding she wears a silk plug hat. She does this so the horse will believe she's a man and won't become frightened at her. She couldn't fool a Kentucky male that way.—Kentucky State Journal.

Ex-Chief Justice French hid his American blood stirred up over the yacht race for the Queen's cup. He offered to wager $1,000 or any part of it on the Puritan, but failed to find any taker, so says the Journal-Miner.

The Molly Maguires are again on the warpath in Pennsylvania. Nine murders have been committed by them in the last few months. This band of outlaws have organized and are, drilling. Great alarm prevails and an outbreak is apprehended.

A large number of circulars have been received by clerks in the Department from various republican state committees asking for contributions. It is probable that the amount contributed by Washington clerks this year will hardly pay the postage upon the circulars, H.

Ben Butler is said by some of his opponents to be politically dead. May be he is, but it would be well for them to remember that this same thing was said of him along about 1883. Never fool with the hind feet of a mule until you are sure it is dead, and then do it by proxy.—Texas Siftings.

A large gray fox was found in the White House grounds recently. The animal, when discovered, was quietly walking about in the flower garden, probably in search of the Executive hen roost. Although a number of men and boys joined in his pursuit, the animal succeeded in gaining the dense growth of reeds upon the flats near the monument, and escaped.

The Phoenix Gazette says an effort will be made to send the best of our agricultural and mining displays to the fair this fall at New Orleans. The railroad company has offered to take two car loads free of charge and it is almost certain that a fine lot of our products will be forwarded to the Crescent City, where F. M. Murphy, one of the managers, will care for them.

An exchange gives the following advice to young men: "Go and propose to the most sensible girl you know. If she accepts you tell her how much your income is, and from what sources derived; and tell her how you will divide the last shilling with her, and that you will love her with all your heart into the bargain, and then keep your promise. My word for it, she will live within your income, and to your last hour you will regret that you did not marry sooner. Stop worrying about feminine extravagance and feminine untruth. Just you be true to her—love her sincerely, and a more faithful foch h slave you will never meet anywhere. You will not deserve her, we know; but she will never know it."

Among medicinal means of arresting disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands pre-eminent. It checks the further progress of all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, revives the vital stamina, prevents and remedies chills and fever, increases the activity of the kidneys, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism, and is a genuine stay and solace to quackish and nervous persons. The article is, moreover, derived from the purest and most reliable sources. For sale by all druggists and dealers generally.
